High Level Gutter Cleaning
From The Safety of the Ground

To offices , Shops, Hotels, Schools,
Sheltered Housing & Industrial Units

Fully Insured & Safe Contractor Approved

- Utilising a full camera survey our quotation is based on cleaning only the areas of guttering that require attention.

- Guttering directs rainfall away from buildings to protect the outer skin of the property.
- Regular cleaning prevents blockages therefore avoiding costly repairs
- With current 'working at heights directives' we at Clear Vision have found it better to adopt a system where high level guttering can be cleaned safely from the ground.
- We now use the omnivac system where lightweight poles are attached together to reach the required height.

We Can Also Offer A Full Window Cleaning Service

To working Heights of up to 48 feet

- We also use specially manufactured poles which connect to our powerwash system, this is used to wash out the down pipes clearing any blockages.

- These are then connected to a powerful vac system which allows debris in the gutters to be sucked out.

Using High Reach Poles With Pure Water Technology

- To check all works have been completed to our high standards we have also invested in a high level camera system which connects to the poles, this is monitored on a screen at ground level and can also be used to give a quick survey of unseen roof areas.

- We believe this is the safest method to use on high level works, costs are reduced as there is no need for scaffolding or an access platform.

- Should you require any further information on our service please contact us directly.
